ADVISER:

To Mr. Guy Shellenbarger, who has been our principal for many years, we, the students of Marshfield Senior High, dedicate this, the 1957 Mahiscan. Mr. Shellenbarger has seen our student body grow in number and our buildings grow in size; but whether we be six hundred or twelve hundred, his capable guidance has directed us to think and act as one in doing only that which is best for our school. As we become adults, we will realize even more fully that we have been made better people because of the training given us by our true friend, Mr. Shellenbarger.

All of us treasure different memories—the grand march at the prom, the “one” in problems, the first day of school, the opening kickoff, the Sadie, a certain talent show, the last long march to “Pomp and Circumstance.” Usually we most highly treasure the golden moments that took the most “digging.” We hope this MAHISCAN of 1956-57 will depict why we Pirates cherish Marshfield Senior High School.

Math . . . . Science . . . .

With all the publicity concerning our nation's rising demand for scientists and engineers, the math and science classes have been more popular than ever. Vocations in math and science have been stressed increasingly with a special emphasis upon nuclear physics and chemistry. Sometimes when those terrible odors began to drift through the halls, we wished that our modern society placed more emphasis on perfume.

Vocational, Commercial . . . .

Even though many of us do not plan to continue our higher education, we have found that we can acquire an excellent background in homemaking or almost any trade or commercial field right here at Marshfield High. With our well equipped shop and business education facilities, we are all able to graduate with a good fundamental knowledge of any vocation from auto mechanics to private secretary and a minimum of sore thumbs and burnt fingers.

It's a wonder our teachers endured the way we slaughtered Bach and dribbled paint on the art room floors. Our pronunciation of Spanish was intolerable and Latin was even worse, but somehow the faculty lived through it; and we, as students, are richer for it.

We were FRESHMEN and were about to plunge into something strange and new. Though uncertain of what lay ahead, we stepped off and discovered Marshfield Senior High. Here is how it all began . . . .

Front: H. Blenz, G. Gehlert, K. Jorgensen, J. Johnson. Back: B. Burke, D. Shanley, D. Miller, R. Danielson

Freshmen . . . .

We, the largest freshman class ever to enter Marshfield High, had our first get-together at the Frosh Mixer, sponsored by the Student Council. We then entered what we thought was the best float in the North Bend Football Rally Parade and introduced our dramatic skill in the first talent show of the year.

To begin filling our newly acquired (and quite empty) class treasury, we sold cokes at a football game, sold popcorn at four basketball games, and held other money-making projects in the spring.

All through the year we were scholastically high, with many freshmen on the honor roll each term. Our officers and advisers led us well in "putting our best foot forward" in our first year at Marshfield High.

Front: Miss Gabiola, Mrs. Winslow. Back: Mr. Reavis, Mr. Larsen.

Sophomores . . . .

Our sophomore class certainly did not mean to create a sensation in the halls of Marshfield High School, but our skunk sale proved so popular that even Elvis Presley was forgotten for a few hours.

Before the noon hour was over a little white and black chenille skunk was perched on almost every student's shoulder. Our class continued to show its ingenuity by increasing the class treasury through coke bottle and coat hanger collections.

Juniors . . . .

The junior year found the Class of '58 thrust in the lime-light; and in spite of the prom theme, "Masquerade," our talents did not remain hidden. Sometimes it seemed as though there just weren't enough hours in the day to get everything finished, but somehow we managed to get the balloons blown, a float decorated, and invitations issued, regardless of the dire predictions of the seniors.

After much debate, compromising and a few shattered nervous systems, not to mention gnawed fingernails, we finally selected red, black and white as our basic colors, built a huge mask from which to serve punch, and blew balloons for the ceiling in a modernistic interpretation of the Hallowe'en theme.

On the heels of the prom came a request for a float for the North Bend rally; and at the cost of a few hairs from Mr. Burch's head, we created one of the top floats in the parade.

After the early rush of activities, our lives ran a little more smoothly as we earned money for projects by popcorn concessions at all football games, one basketball concession, a mid-year car wash, and a spring rummage sale; and we took a little thing like the January talent show in our stride.

Busy as we were at the beginning of the year, we were even more active as the year ended. We honored the seniors at the traditional Junior-Senior Dessert; and, determined to maintain the traditions set by preceding classes, we decorated for graduation and baccalaureate services and prepared for the year ahead.

For junior talent show Kay Burke (on floor), and Judy Lantto (center) dramatize song "Frankie and Johnny," as JoAnn Almond (far left) sings words.

Kurt Black, Larry Bick, and Tom Jenkins enact scene from "Mellendramer."

Junior Activities . . . .

The junior football rally float had as its theme the title of a currently popular "Rock 'n Roll" tune.

Class advisers Mr. Burch and Mr. Alexander (kneeling) help Junior Prom decorators plot their designs.

Judy Stout demonstrates "the bop" for talent assembly.

Pat Petford and Gaidine Oglesbee twirl batons for junior talent show.

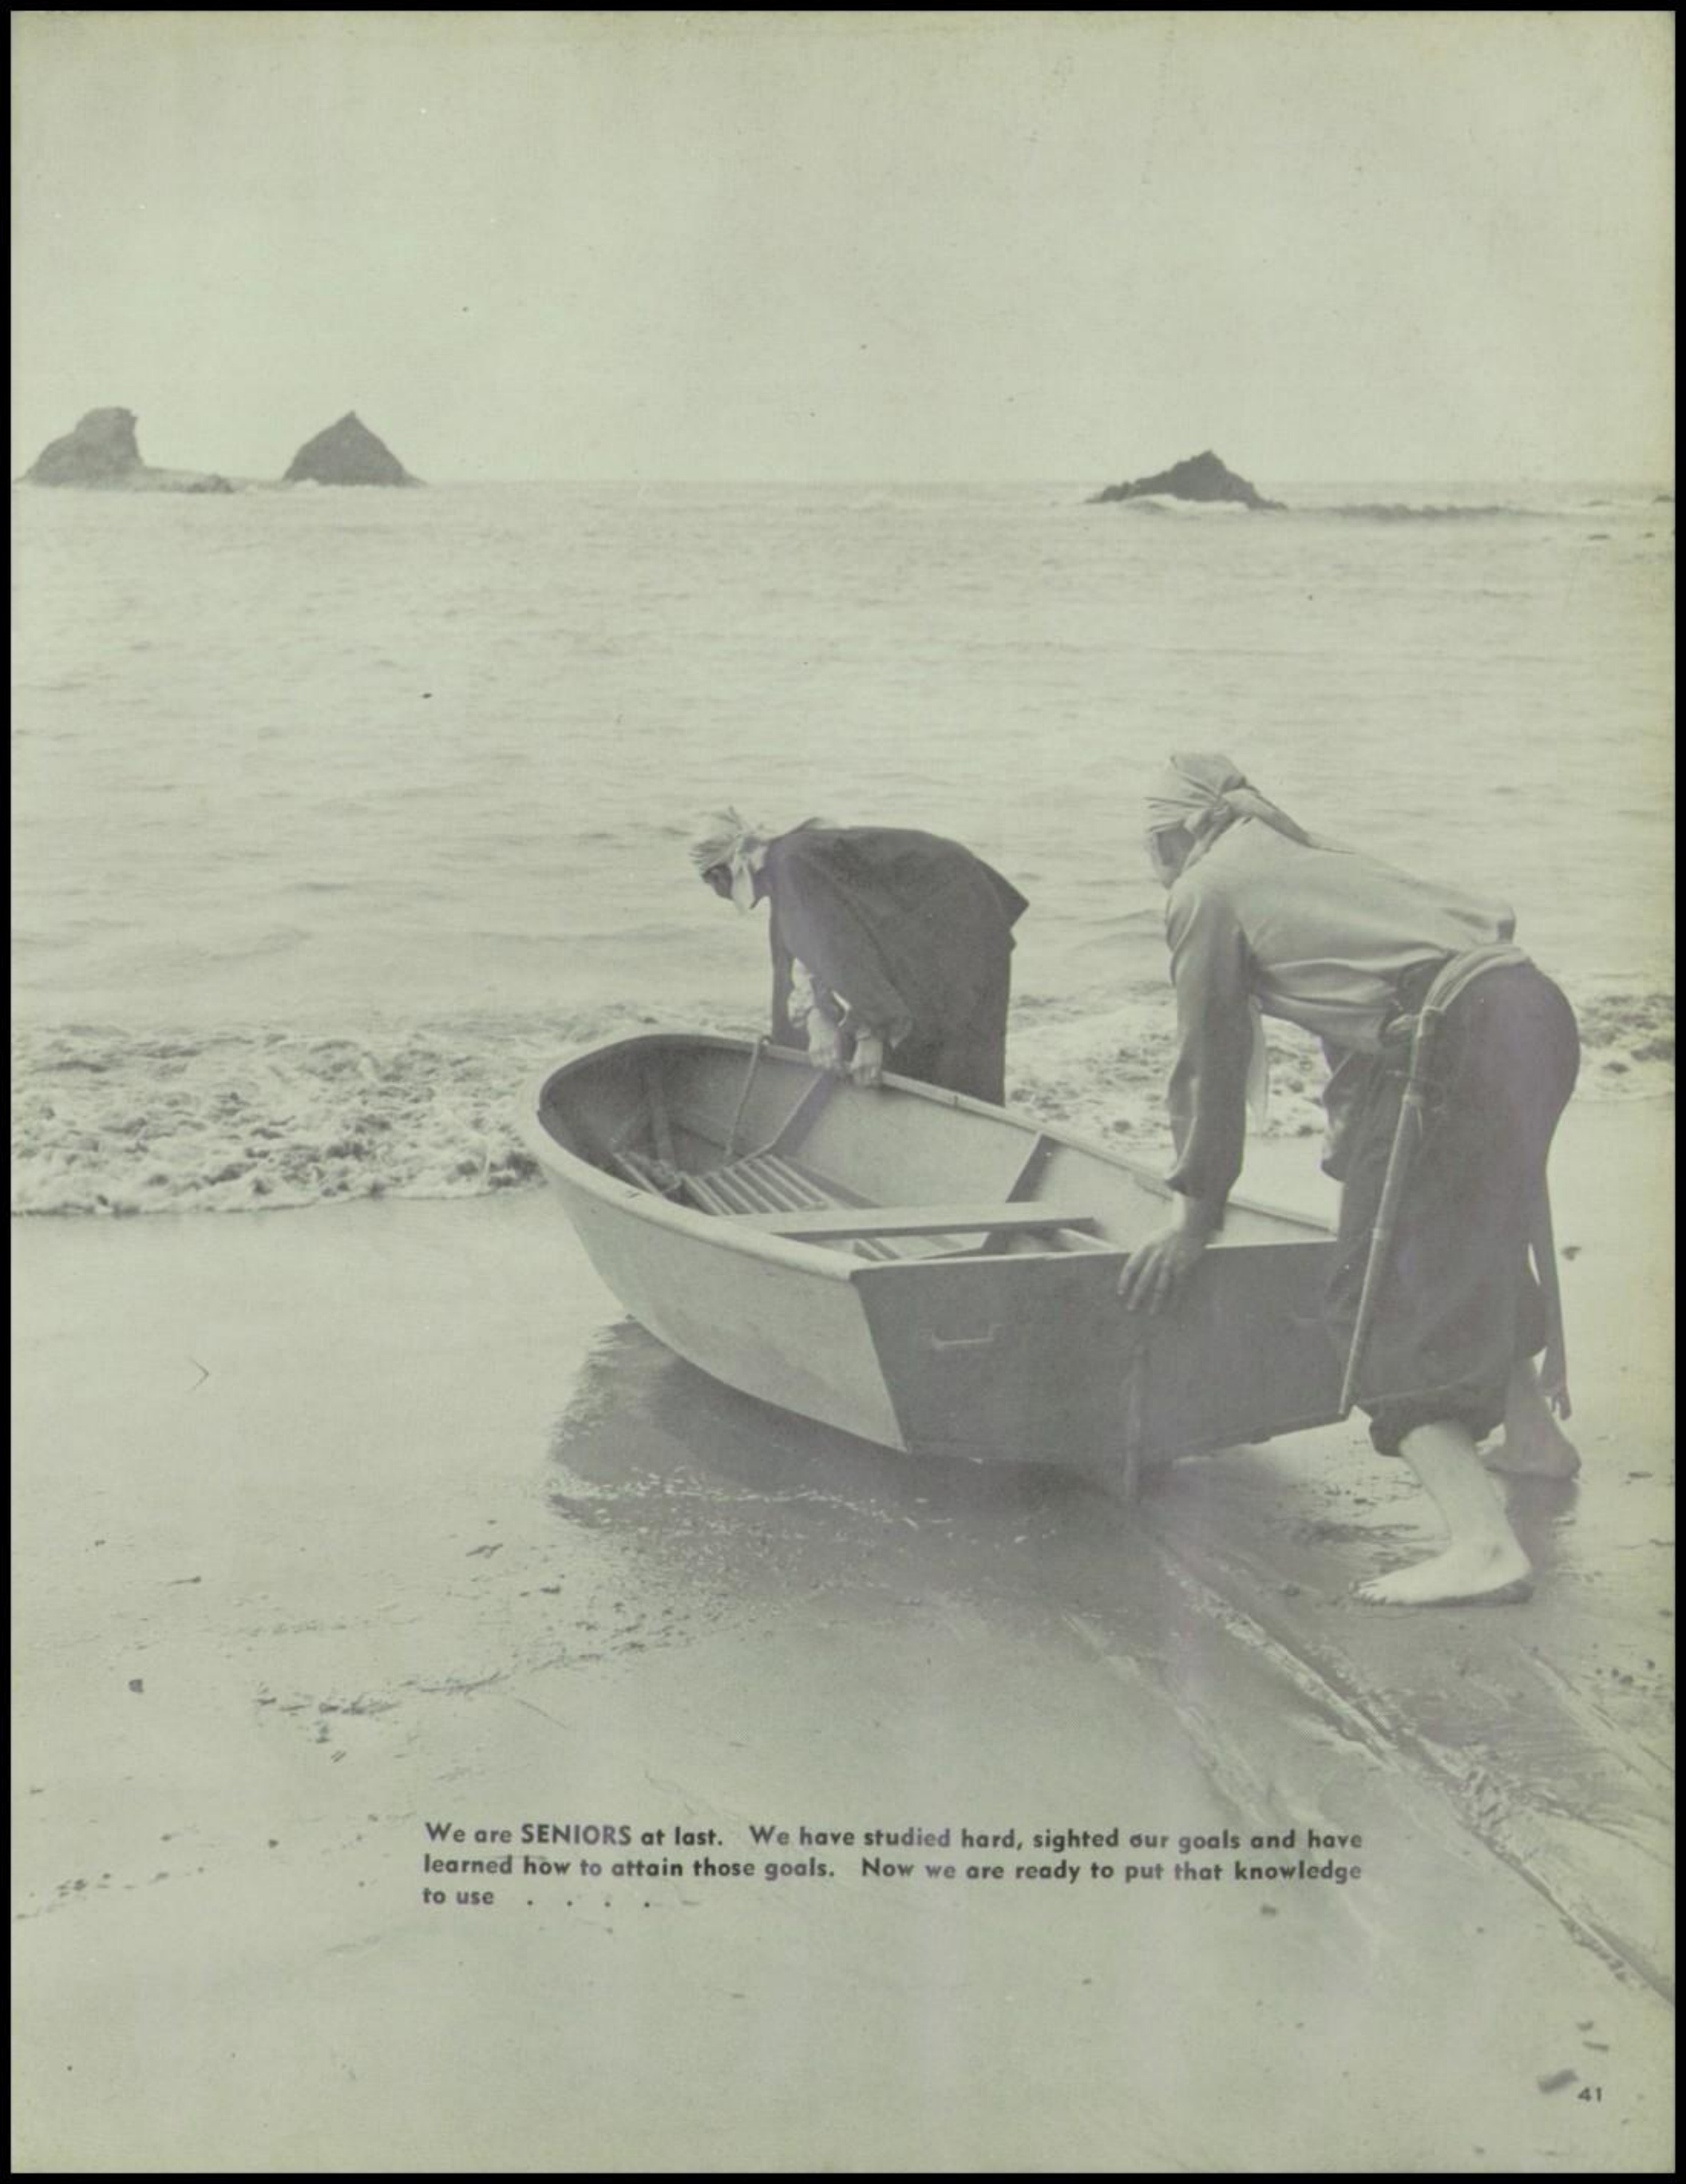

J. Almond, J. Lantto, K. Burke (on floor) take directions from B. Haun and J. Briggs, talent show directors.

B. Chandler, M. Coleman, K. Black, T. Bullard, D. Foote, P. Petford, G. Myhrvold, C. Doty, B. Haun, and Mr. Burch look as though more than just "corn" is popping.

We are SENIORS at last. We have studied hard, sighted our goals and have learned how to attain those goals. Now we are ready to put that knowledge to use . . . . .

L. to R.: A. Messerle, C. Eickworth, C. Leibelt, P. Tankersley, J. Amsbary, G. Scott, D. Gervais, D. Morris, D. Vaughan, D. Cardwell

Seniors . . . .

In the beginning we were many. We were solitary and lonely figures groping about in the strange confusion of high school life. Now we are one, we are a group with common loyalties and common pride. We are the class of '57. What was it, this miracle of fusing more than 200 young minds, prideful hearts, diverse loyalties into such a group? It was the synthesis of many things. It was the Freshman Mixer where frosh girls eyed upperclassmen and frosh boys eyed frosh girls. It was our own class party that we worked for and then congratulated ourselves upon. It was a carnival with all the gaudiness and glory of the real thing. Of course, there were the concessions, ice cream, cokes and all the rest in the icy air of football season and the exciting murmur and heat of basketball games. It was a dream of a pink and red carousel, ponies under many-colored lights, and the picket fences draped with ivy—our Junior Prom. It was an unprecedented student directory, the formality of the Junior-Senior Dessert, the rummage sale, and the excitement of Homecoming weekend. It was the joy of the talent shows with all their corn, sophistication, and youthful talent. It was the elegance of a Senior Ball. Finally, we were one, only to be thrust apart. We will graduate, we will travel once again our solitary paths. They will lead us to many places, some far away, some not far from the front steps of our alma mater; but none of our paths will ever lead us into the past. We shall never be together again save in the warm, precious memories of the intense, proud class of '57.

Mrs. Baker and Mr. Martin

Seniors Sally Shellenbarger, Dot Hosking, Linda McBride, Sandra Johnson, Suzie Freeman, Jim Kelly, Jim Johnson, Maurice Bregel, Denny Vaughn, Jerry Tankersley, Chuck Leibelt (hidden), and Gary Smith are busy measuring for graduation caps and gowns.

Senior Activities . . . .

"Mouseketeers" Barry Bullard, Clay Smith, Jim Kelly, Gary Scott, and Dale Cardwell sing theme song for senior talent show. (A closer look reveals mouse-ears).

Senior Prexy Chuck Amsbary crowns home coming queen Arlene Messerle as princesses K. Johnson, J. Cagley, B. Ingman, and D. Long and escorts D. Moffit, N. Leiling and J. Shanley look on.

Seniors crowd into their football rally float as serpentine progresses in background.

Student Council . . . .

Though Marshfield High School students often have had the opportunity of seeing President Barry Bullard function before assemblies, few of them realize the extent of the duties of the organization he headed—the student council.

The council had as its responsibility the governing of all student activities, organizations, and publications. Composed of student body officers and class representatives, the council gave each student a chance to participate in student government.

This year, pre-school planning and participation in organizational workshops helped to make student body activities run smoothly. First on the agenda was the Freshman Mixer, continuing the policies set by last year's council.

The supervision of noon movies was another important activity of the council. Several national assemblies also helped to entertain the students.

Once again the students welcomed in the New Year at a council-sponsored dance.

Under the direction of the student council, MHS activities continued to be publicized in "Pirate Patter," a column in the Coos Bay Times.

November 29 every student at MHS was offered three chances to acquire inside information about his future. Including sixty-five occupations from doctor to mortician and minister to crime fighter, the Career Day program presented facts and figures to enlighten the students.

This year a freshman and senior evaluation was taken to determine if students considered this program an aid in future decisions and whether or not Career Day should be held annually.

Representatives under the direction of William T. McLean tallied the returns, which brought a positive "yes."

IRL . . . .

As the new year rolled around, International Relations League became Marshfield's newest activity addition.

This thirty member social studies club, directed by William T. McLean, has been assigned by the International Headquarters to study the labor problems of Gold Coast, Ethiopia, and Nigeria and to present its findings at the model United Nations at the University of Oregon.

Mahiscan . . . .

To make the Mahiscan representative of the 1956-57 school year at Marshfield was the aim of the annual staff this year. Under the editorship of Katy Finell and Venessa Elizarras, the annual underwent a number of changes. Chief innovation was the adoption of a new printing process, lithography, making greater use of school photography possible. The art department also contributed to the annual by holding a cover-designing contest, won by Marcia Houston.

For the first time in many years, the Mahiscan included advertising to help underwrite the cost of these changes and to reduce the cost per copy to the students.

Because of the increased size of both the annual and the student body, the staff indexed material to make it more easily available.

Assisting in the production of the annual were Meyers and Company, The News Press, and the Camera Shop.

The Ma-Hi Times, Marshfield's four page biweekly newspaper, had as its theme this year "Developing Initiative." The majority of the editorials were built around that topic.

Receiving its usual first place rating in the state, the Times sponsored several editors in the Pacific University writing contest.

In early October Editor-in-chief Barbara Robertson and News Editor Louise Joslin traveled with Mahiscan Editors Katy Finell and Venessa Elizarras to the Oregon Scholastic Press Conference on the U of O campus and returned with many new ideas for improving their paper.

The Mahiter, for two years a rather expensive pamphlet-type student creative writing journal, appeared this year as a supplement page to the Ma-Hi Times. The editorial board and adviser, Eleanor Baker, have hopes that the page will some day develop into a literary magazine.

Designed to give students an opportunity to exercise their creative writing ability, and see their efforts in print, the Mahiter was published on two occasions, once in late fall and again in early spring.

Quill and Scroll . . . .

Quill and Scroll, a national journalism honor society has as its aim the promotion of better high school journalism both in writing and photography. The group was of such a small and manageable size this year, that most of its business meetings were carried on over informal spaghetti dinners.

Although its primary function is to give recognition, Quill and Scroll took over the editorship of the Mahiter, and named Patty McDonald as its editor-in-chief.

The society also presented award certificates to outstanding Marshfield journalists at a formal gathering in the spring.

The Choir, Glee, and Mixed Chorus combine to sing a glorious opening for the 1956 Christmas Vespers.

Vocal Music . . . .

The 17th Annual Christmas Vespers, in which the mixed chorus, glee club, and choir participated, brought a classic opening to the Christmas season at MHS. The choir also presented "Amahl and the Night Visitors," a one-act Christmas opera by Menotti.

In January the choir combined with Modern Dance Club and an instrumental ensemble to interpret Fred Waring's arrangement of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" as half-time entertainment for the North Bend basketball game. On March 29 the groups held their Spring Concert and on May 3 attended the District Vocal Festival at Myrtle Point.

Special groups—Madrigal Singers, Gleemen, Serenettes, and the "Four Winds and a Gayle"—have helped to cement good public relations with many community organizations. The Serenettes and girl members of Madrigal were pleasing to the eye as well as the ear in gold dresses, purchased through money earned selling concessions.

Tri-M . . . .

Modern Music Masters, a young organization in its second year at Marshfield, started 1956 with an initiation in October, when twenty-one apprentices became full-fledged members.

The group sold cokes at the Longview basketball games for project funds.

In late February, the club initiated a second group of apprentices and on May 9 presented its talent in an assembly honoring National Music Week.

The purpose of Tri-M is to further vocal and instrumental solo and ensemble performances throughout the school and community.

The money Tri-M earned through concessions and other projects was given, in scholarship form, to music students interested in attending summer sessions held at several colleges in the Northwest.

Tri-M members hold fall initiation.

Band . . . .

A good band is a major part of any high school. Performing at football and basketball games captures the interest of members during the fall and winter months.

This year the Band attended the big football play-off game in Portland with its new director, Ray Riscoll. "South of the Border," a half-time offering, was well received by the spectators.

On March 8, the Band presented its annual Spring Concert and on May 11, attended the District Band Festival in Reedsport. In late May, members ended the year with an annual Band picnic, inviting the B band to join in the fun.

Torch . . . .

Promoting scholastic activity, Torch's goal was carried out in three ways this year. It provided a supervised study hall at noon to encourage more and better studying habits, issued honor roll certificates, and presented a scholarship to further the education of an Honor Society member.

To provide funds for these projects, Torch sold hot cocoa, cokes and programs at football and basketball games. As a service to the community, Torch members ushered for concerts and other programs.

Since Torch is a national society, it must uphold the national standards. One standard is that a club in a school with over 1000 students, must limit membership to 10 per cent of the junior class and 15 per cent of the senior class. This rule went into effect in the fall of 1956.

The club also raised its scholastic standards to a 1.8 GPA for students not taking academic courses.

Art Club . . . .

Achieving its twofold purpose, to create an active interest in all phases of art and to put that interest to use in serving the school, the Art Club designed all back drops for the Vespers and Spring Concerts and livened the hall bulletin boards with seasonal and informative posters.

Members worked on club projects after school, during the evening, and on weekends. Participating in work party sessions was one way to gain membership in the club. Another qualification was that the student had taken or was enrolled in an Art class.

The officers were Gaidine Oglesbee, president; Virginia Carlhom, vice-president; Marcia Houston, secretary; Gerald Chamberlain, treasurer; Charlotte Blumenber, publicity chairman; and Jack Lefler, adviser.

Drama . . . .

The Drama Department this year was characterized by an amazing increase in male enrollment, which made possible a more widely varied selection of plays (heroes at last!). Reorganized by their director, Mr. Love, the Drama classes performed several one-act plays during lunch periods, charging ten cents admission to cover production costs. Mr. Love also introduced classes in make-up and directing. Besides these theatrical phases, larger productions are planned for next year.

Thespians . . . .

Although a small group, the Marshfield Thespians have been very active. A Thanksgiving assembly, including a dramatization of the meaning of Thanksgiving and a reading of President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving address was its first activity of the year, followed by a noon assembly February 2.

Everyone roared with laughter at the Thespian's first one-act play, "Nobody Sleeps," presented January 17. The second one-act play performance, "Skin Deep," had its opening May 1.

The Thespians traveled to the Northwest drama conference in Eugene, where they had an opportunity to see semi-professional and collegiate groups perform. They also discussed with them production and acting problems.

The awarding of first and second place trophies to the Best Actor, Best Actress, and Best Thespians was an appropriate finale to the Thespian club's year.

Spanish Club . . . .

Los Gringos, Marshfield's only Spanish-speaking organization, had a full 1956-57 schedule of Latin American activities. November started a correspondence between members of Los Gringos and many Mexican students.

To get better acquainted with Spanish customs, the MHS club played host to North Bend in December at a Christmas Fiesta. Members sang, danced, broke the Swan Pinata, and ate Mexican wedding cakes all in Spanish style.

February found Los Gringos aboard a Spanish ship trying to learn the ways of the Spanish seamen. They were told some of the more exciting adventures of the sailors.

A fiesta, held in the cafeteria during March, ushered in the Lenten season in the gala custom of the Latin countries.

In May, Los Gringos were invited to North Bend for a spring fiesta. They were pleased at this invitation and thought it a grand way to end the Spanish year.

Latin Club . . . .

One of Marshfield's youngest organizations is the newly formed Latin Club, a chapter of the national organization of the Junior Classical League.

To learn more about the ancient Romans, whose customs the students were studying, the Latin Club successfully planned and gave a real Roman banquet.

In addition to adopting their own constitution and officially taking their place among the many clubs at Marshfield, the members of the Latin Club presented a colorful mock Roman wedding to conclude their year's agenda.

Math Club . . . .

The Math Club is one of the many extracurricular activities at Marshfield that concern the broadening of the mind. It is open to anyone interested in the facts, oddities, or applications in mathematics.

The officers of this year's club were presented pins of recognition, which other members had an opportunity to earn by participating in programs during meetings or contributing to the club by selling for Math Club concessions.

Under the guidance of their adviser, Mrs. Sigismund, the members met once a month and held a few sample meetings during class periods.

Throughout the entire year, the members strove to interest others in the increasing demand for vocational mathematicians.

Speech . . . .

Organized to give students an opportunity to improve their public speaking through experience, the Speech Club provided programs for many school and community groups.

Tournaments at Ashland, Forest Grove, North Bend and Corvallis gave club members a chance to compete in several contests.

The club's activities were not limited to just public and school performances. "Spotlight on the Pirates," a weekly half hour radio show on KOOS featuring Marshfield news, talent and favorite tunes, gave several Speech Club members valuable experience in the radio field.

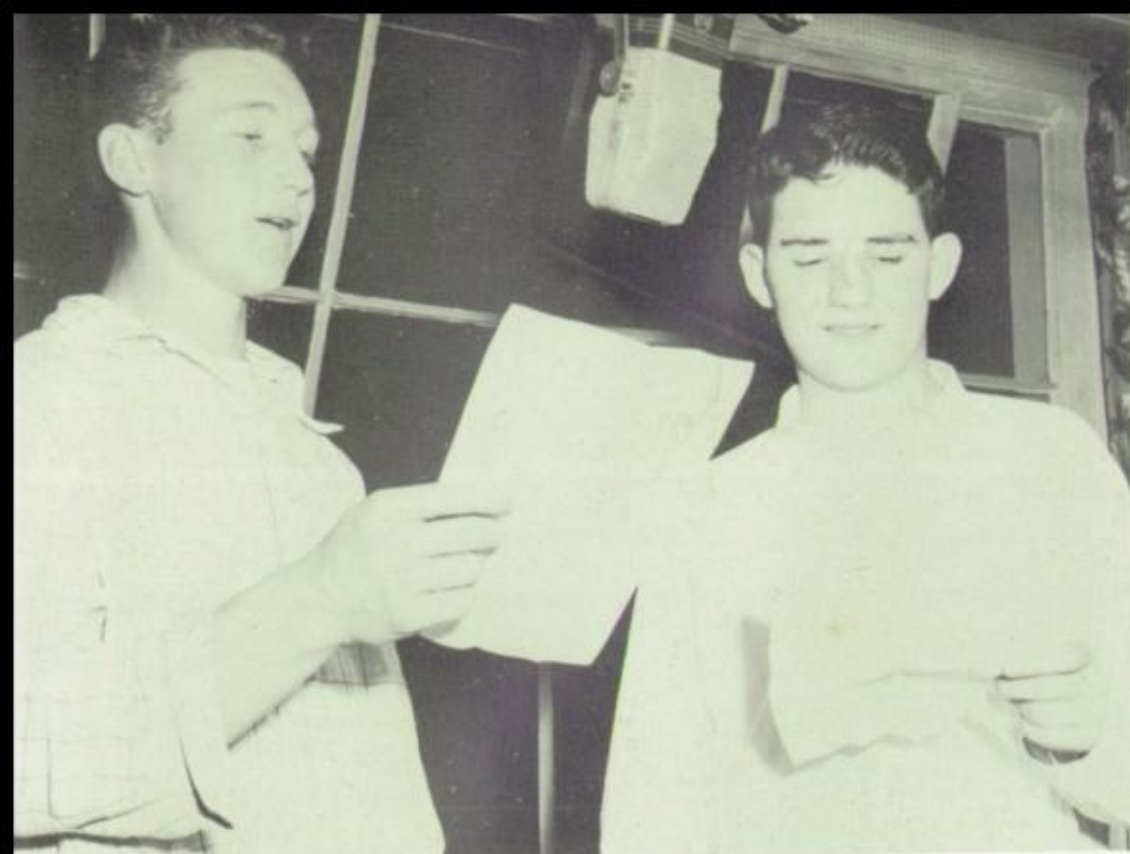

To help perpetuate the 1956-57 school year, the Speech Club made a recording of major school events of the year.

Girls' League . . . .

Girls' League began the year with a Big and Little Sister program, placing one upper classman in charge of each girl newly enrolled at Marshfield High School.

Of course, the hot-dog concession, the club's only source of funds, was of main concern during football season.

Permanent crowns for the king and queen (Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae) highlighted the Sadie Hawkins dance, one of the League's annual events.

Winter found Girls' League decorating the Christmas tree in the foyer of the auditorium.

Their mid-winter social event, a mother-daughter reception, gave the mothers a chance to get acquainted with Girls' League and its activities.

Gals' Day brought the girls together for a final play-day in the spring. As a special feature, eighth grade girls from all over the district were invited to become better acquainted with the school.

Tri-Hi-Y . . . .

The purpose of Tri-Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character.

This purpose was carried out through Tri-Hi-Y's service projects, church attendance, and monthly meetings.

One of Tri-Hi-Y's more important service projects brought happiness to residents at the Mercy Home, where the girls visited to present favors and took small gifts. They made their annual visits to Fairview and Mercy Home before they and the Hi-Y cheered the old folks with Christmas carols.

Prior to attending the various churches, Tri-Hi-Y invited each minister to a club meeting to prepare the members for visiting his church.

Topics at other meetings were pertinent to the girls' interests, usually dealing with social problems. These topics were covered by panels and speakers.

Officers were Louise Joslin, president; Katy Finell, vice-president; Kate Johnson, secretary; Mary Roe, treasurer; Bettina Baer, senior representative; Kay Mills, junior representative.

Hi-Y . . . .

Hi-Y serves as a moral leader and service club both in school and community. Service-wise, Hi-Y helped Girls' League decorate for the Sadie, served at teachers' banquets, sponsored the establishment of a Hi-Y at Myrtle Point, participated in Christmas caroling for the old folks homes, and donated money and time to society-betterment organizations.

The Sweethearts' Ball, Hi-Y's annual semi-formal dance, featured hearts and flowers and occurred in early spring. The heat of politics filled the spring air as Hi-Y'ers traveled to the Oregon Youth and Government session at Salem. Hi-Y ended its year's activities with a picnic in late spring.

FTA . . . .

In their second year of organization the Marjorie Tedrow Future Teachers Club (thirty-three top-ranking seniors) sent two delegates, two visitors, one state officer, and one harried adviser dashing off to the State FTA Convention in Portland to spread the fact that MHS is the best school ever.

"Elementary Teaching" was the topic of a fall meeting to which the MHS club invited the newly organized Powers and Bandon FTA's. (MHS FTA is so old itself).

To get a taste of "teacher journalism," the Future Teachers compiled, edited, and made up an issue of the Nine-C Slate, the school district newspaper. The issue was also designed to inform 9-C employees of FTA activities.

"Nine-C-Nite," a Future Teacher-sponsored get-together for 9-C employees, netted about two hundred dollars for the grant-in-aid fund. The party's unique decorations were in the form of a cartoon gallery of teaching humor.

The classroom observation program in the spring gave FTA'ers an opportunity to spend several weeks looking at a grade school class from the other side of a desk.

The object of all the FTA's money-making efforts was realized when they presented two very generous grants-in-aid to deserving Future Teachers.

Dorothy Hosking and Jeana Hartley put FTA pledge Barbara Heller through the "Apple-Tapping" ceremony.

FFA . . . .

The Future Farmers of America motto, "Learning To Do, Doing To Learn, Earning To Live, Living To Serve," can best express the purpose of the organization.

In carrying out these principles this year, the MHS chapter participated in many "better farming" activities. In October, Ron Barber and Dick Ekblad traveled to the National FFA Convention at Kansas City, Missouri, and fourteen other members attended the Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland.

A Parent and Son banquet was the major program in March, followed in April by the annual FFA Barnyard Stampede, which rounded out a memorable year and included everything from barndancing to a livestock exhibit.

FHA . . . .

In striving to carry out their motto, "Forward to New Horizons," FHA'ers planned many worthwhile projects.

To discuss the possibilities of adopting a Korean orphan, the MHS and North Bend FHA groups met in October at a foreign foods potluck. Later that month several delegates attended the district FHA meeting at Roseburg. November gave FHA'ers an occasion to display their cooking skill, when they were called upon to prepare and serve the Hi-Y banquet.

As a service to the community and for homemaking experience, the members provided a baby-sitting service for parents attending the Christmas Vespers. Also during Christmas, the club held a progressive dinner and small gift exchange.

January brought in new members, followed by a February Family Nite.

The FFA banquet in March was the object of second FHA display of cooking skill.

April was service month and during that time FHA began a one year adoption of a Korean orphan.

Rally Staff . . . .

Original pep assemblies, with occasional humorous skits and yells featuring the football players and Rally Squad highlighted this year's Rally Staff activities. The crowning of Football Queen Bettina Baer, four after-game dances, the traditional Marshfield-North Bend rally in downtown Coos Bay, encouraging the State Football Champions, combined for a complete football season.

Basketball season found the Rally Squad sporting new outfits of full white skirts, with an abundance of petticoats, and turtle-neck sweaters. The Yell Leaders wore yellow culottes and bulky-knit sweaters.

Going hand in hand with the uniforms were tricky steps, of which "California Kick," "Hip Hop," "Elvis," and "Can-Can Chorus," were characteristic names.

One of the Rally Squad's most rewarding moments came when the Oregon Journal praised them as being one of the finest squads in the state.

Pep Club . . . .

Besides creating school spirit through organized yelling at games, the Pepsters, Marshfield Pep Club, chartered busses to several games and provided half time entertainment both at home and out of town games. Three members joined with the band to entertain at the championship football game. The Drill Team, composed of thirty-six Pep Club members, performed during basketball season.

The Pepsters engaged in a number of money-making projects including car washes, a mum sale and a dance, which more than cancelled their debt from previous years.

For the first time Rally Squad and Yell Leaders were members of Pep Club. Also rules were more strictly enforced, improving the club greatly and paving the way for an even better organization next year.

Rifle Club . . . .

Marshfield's Rifle Club under the advisership of Mr. Donald Bunyard has become one of the largest organizations in school. They have fulfilled their purpose of teaching safety with firearms and how to shoot them through practice sessions, instruction, and many inter-scholastic events when they were actually "under fire" so to speak.

In January, the top five traveled to Corvallis to participate in the Oregon State College annual Smallbore Tournament, where they competed for medals and trophies in the Junior division. They also met teams from Eugene, Roseburg and Ashland at the California-Oregon, Junior Postal League early in February. Later in the spring, this active group participated in its "big match," the Roseburg Junior Rifle Club Annual Tournament.

For the third year in succession, Marshfield retained the Oregon High School State Football Championship. The success of the team was due both to expert coaching and fine team play.

JV Football . . . .

JV FOOTBALL

Marshfield's JV football squad, coached by Bruce Hoffine, Walt McClure, and Wayne Fox, is made up entirely of freshmen and sophomores. Its nearly perfect record was marred by only one tie. The squad downed the Coquille JV's in the first two games of the season, 28-0 and 20-0. Next they dumped the North Bend Bullpups, 21-0, and finally tied Myrtle Point, 6-6. The JV's finished their undefeated season by outmaneuvering the Bullpups again, 18-2.

This year a freshman team was formed to give the younger players a chance to participate in more games and to give them as much experience as possible. These future varsity players ended the season with an even .500 average by losing to the North Bend freshmen, 7-13, and then returning to defeat them, 19-7.

Varsity Basketball . . . .

After a slow start because of the lengthened football season, the Marshfield basketball team overcame great odds to gain a berth in the state finals. Providing some of the most thrilling moments in recent Marshfield history the team proved a giant killer by defeating Eugene twice and Benson once and by overcoming an eight point deficit against North Bend with only a few minutes left to go.

Ending the up and down season in a tie for second place, the Piratemens, coached by Bruce Hoffine, were forced into a playoff with North Bend on the Marshfield floor. Defeat seemed inevitable to Pirate supporters in the packed gym, as Marshfield trailed most of the game. The impact of the intrepid Ma Hi explosion in the final moments was sufficient to carry the Pirates into an overtime victory and the state tournament.

Continuing their "giant-killing" tactics, the Pirates pulled the major upset of the state tournament by defeating the tall Pelicans of Klamath Falls 36-31; however, the team was unable to sustain its drive and lost the two following games to North Salem 50-49 and Benson 73-37.

J V Basketball . . . .

The JV basketball team, coached by Walt McClure, attained a .600 average with its fifteen win—ten loss record.

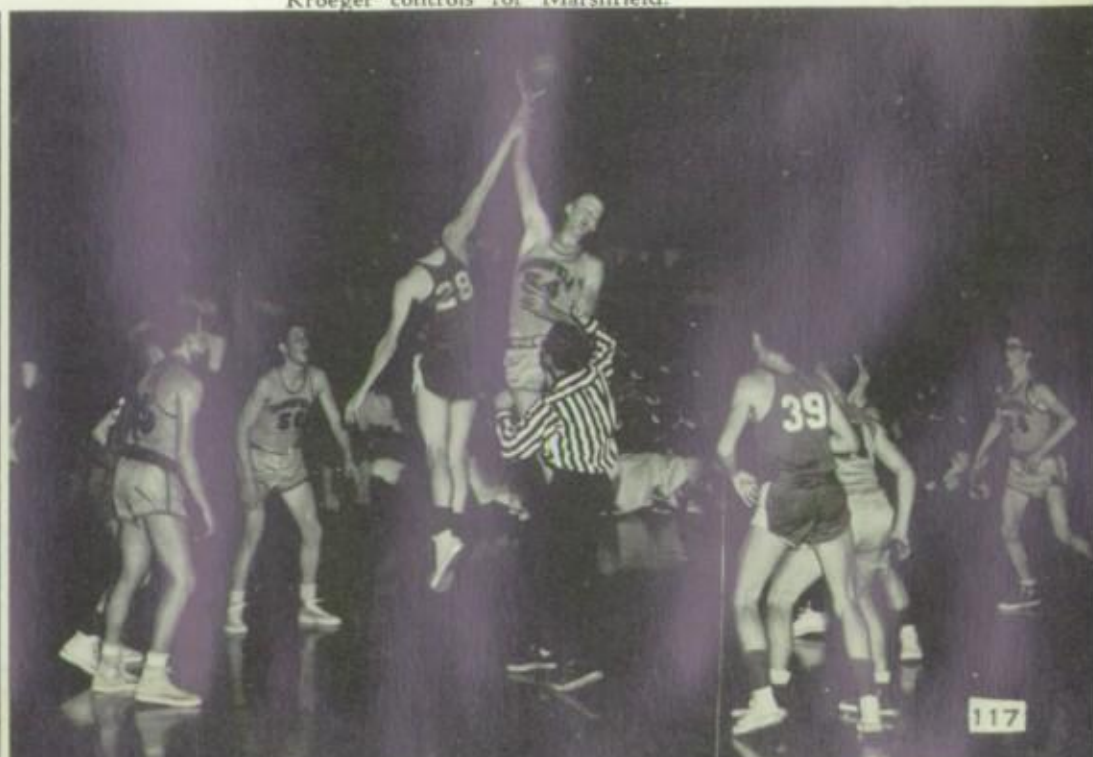

Six, feet, six inch freshman Mel Counts attained the highest scoring record with 307 points. Other promising future varsity players are guards Gary Rossi and Walt Hunter.

The JV team, open to all boys except seniors, was dominated this year entirely by sophomores and freshmen.

B Basketball . . . .

The "B" squad basketball team batted out an even .900 average with eighteen wins and two losses, both of which were to Marshfield's JV basketball team.

High scorer Lorance Eickworth contributed 165 points to Marshfield's 1092 total points compared to the opponent's 747 total points. Averaging 54.6 points per game to the opponent's 37.35 points per game, the "B" squad had a very successful season this year, playing North Bend, Powers, Coquille, Langlois, Port Orford, Gold Beach, Myrtle Point, Reedsport, and the Marshfield JV's.

Wrestling . . . .

The 1956 - 1957 wrestling team was the largest to be organized at Marshfield. Of the twenty-seven members, sixteen were freshmen; three were sophomores; five were juniors; and three were seniors. After placing third in the district, four of Coach Chet Haliski's wrestlers went to the state tournament, where sophomore Roy Sinclair received fourth place in his weight division. Besides developing the boys' physical coordination, agility, balance and muscular growth, wrestling teaches them self-confidence, aggressiveness, self-control, and team work.

L. to R.: Coach Bruce Hoffine, J. Johnson, L. Reinhart, D. Sampson, C. Smith, L. Eickworth, G. Gehlert, B. McCombs.

Tennis . . . .

Strengthened by the returning lettermen, including last year's state doubles champ, Clayton Smith, the 1957 tennis team sought to equal or better its 1956 five win, one loss record. Practicing on the Golden Street courts, the team members were coached by Bruce Hoffine.

Practicing indoor tennis are returning lettermen Dave Sampson, Dan Grischkowsky, and Clayton Smith.

L. to R., Row 1: Coach Fox, J. Forrester, B. Knox, K. Black, D. Long. Row 2: D. Wood, L. Bick, J. Peterson, J. Johnson. Row 3: M. Whitty, J. Fitzpatrick, G. Backman, J. Tankersley.

Golf . . . .

Coach Wayne Fox's golf club braved Oregon's usual liquid sunshine to compete in matches at Eugene, Albany, Medford, and Roseburg. In an enviable position with all of last year's lettermen returning, Coach Fox leaned heavily on George Backman, Larry Bick, John Forrester, Eugene Johnson, and Jon Peterson, who had placed eighth in state the previous year and second in the district.

Since the usual Coos Bay weather prevailed, the pictures could not be taken on the field.

Track . . . .

Coach Wait McClure depended heavily on eleven returning lettermen for his track team, helped by county title holders Hardy Spurgeon (javelin record of 175 feet, six  $\frac{3}{4}$  inches) and Roger Johnson (high hurdles 15.9 seconds). In the running events were sprinters Gary Kvalheim and Jim Loar, milers Joe Egger and Frank Cannon, and hurdlers Roger Johnson. Lettermen Barry Bullard and Hardy Spurgeon threw the discus. Other returning lettermen in the field events were Hardy Spurgeon and Tim Bullard, who tossed the javelin; Gary Rossi, high jump; Ed Wiser, polevault; Dave Bingham, shot put.

Marshfield participated in track meets in Roseburg, Grants Pass, Rogue River at Medford, Hayward Relays at Eugene, Cottage Grove, Coos County at Coos Bay, sub district meet at Roseburg, district meet at Eugene, and the state meet at Corvallis.

Tumbling . . .

Coach Dean Sheldon has led the tumbling team through a very active season this year. The tumblers demonstrated their skills both for educational and entertainment purposes at various schools in the district. The boys also provided entertainment not only during basketball game halftimes, but also for several Bay area civic clubs.

Ed Wilson and Rick Saukkonen practice on the Swedish box.

Ken Messerle and Ed Wilson on the horizontal bar.

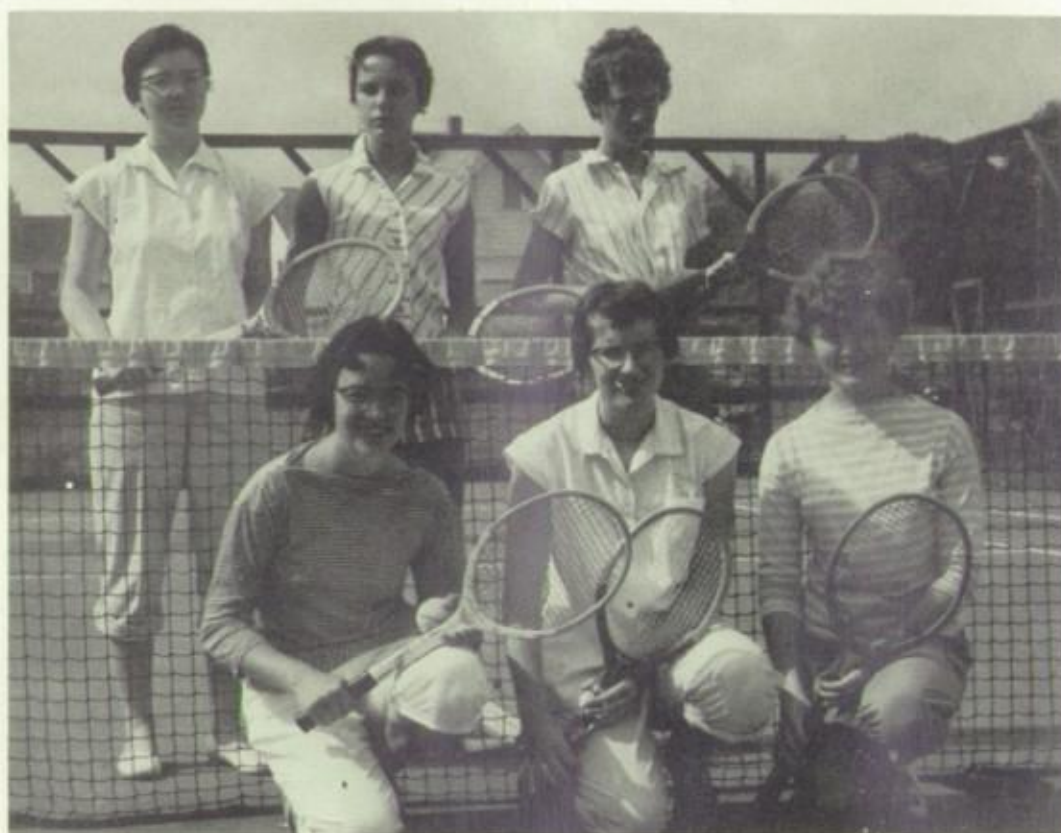

Playing basketball are Kathy McGuire, Kathy Lee, Carolyn Wilfert, Pat Edwards, Patty Gentry.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRADUATING SENIORS OF MARSHFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

*Don Evelyn
And Jack
So a And Grand
Wanda*

Handwritten note:
The MAHISCAN staff wishes to thank the student body, faculty, and community, without whose help this annual would not be possible. We have tried to make this annual a reflection of the year 1956-57 at Marshfield High School. If we have been successful, this success was possible because Marshfield High School is more than an institution; it is a mold of youth, a place cherished by all who call Marshfield their school.

The MAHISCAN staff wishes to thank the student body, faculty, and community, without whose help this annual would not be possible. We have tried to make this annual a reflection of the year 1956-57 at Marshfield High School. If we have been successful, this success was possible because Marshfield High School is more than an institution; it is a mold of youth, a place cherished by all who call Marshfield their school.

Max, Marshfield's favorite personality, greets all with a welcoming smile.

Snow brings out the music in J. Ferguson, V. Burnette, R. Bergey, C. Foran, D. Grischkowsky, L. Tankersley, J. Tankersley, and D. Sullivan.

FHA treats faculty to afternoon tea.

Parents chat over Open House refreshments.

Frosh R. Livingston, E. Rigik, and K. Jorgensen cast their ballots in student body election.

R. McKenney receives Ma-Hi Times issue from circulators S. Harder and C. Baker.

Dr. Clifford Robinson addresses the Class of '57.

President Charles Amsbary Receives diploma.

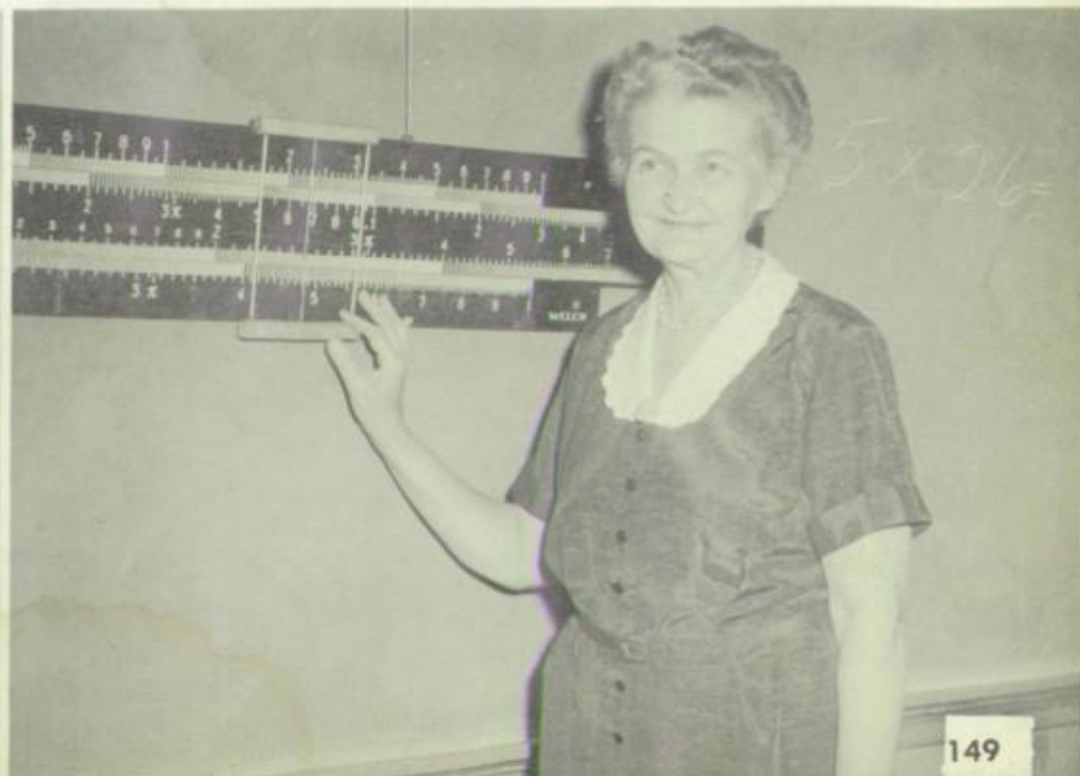

Gerald Chamberlain, Judy Lantto, and Gaidine Oglesbee start at the bottom on the Spring Concert backdrop. "It's a big, wide, wonderful world" for Marcia Houston, Gail Gibson, and Ron Gavisk as they start from the top.

Queen Virginia Kent shows the appreciation of the class to advisers Mrs. Baker and Mr. Martin.

Spring Supplement

Spring brought retirement to Mrs. Sigismund, algebra teacher at Marshfield for 14 years.

Seniors add finishing touches to "Caribbean Sunset."

Seniors breakfast at the Tioga.

Hardy Spurgeon prepares for the State Tournament.

Ted Mahar, next year's Ma-Hi Times editor, interviews Mr. Provart.

Girls of the Month . . .

Katy Finell, Girl of the Year.

Graduating lettermen crowd the stairs.

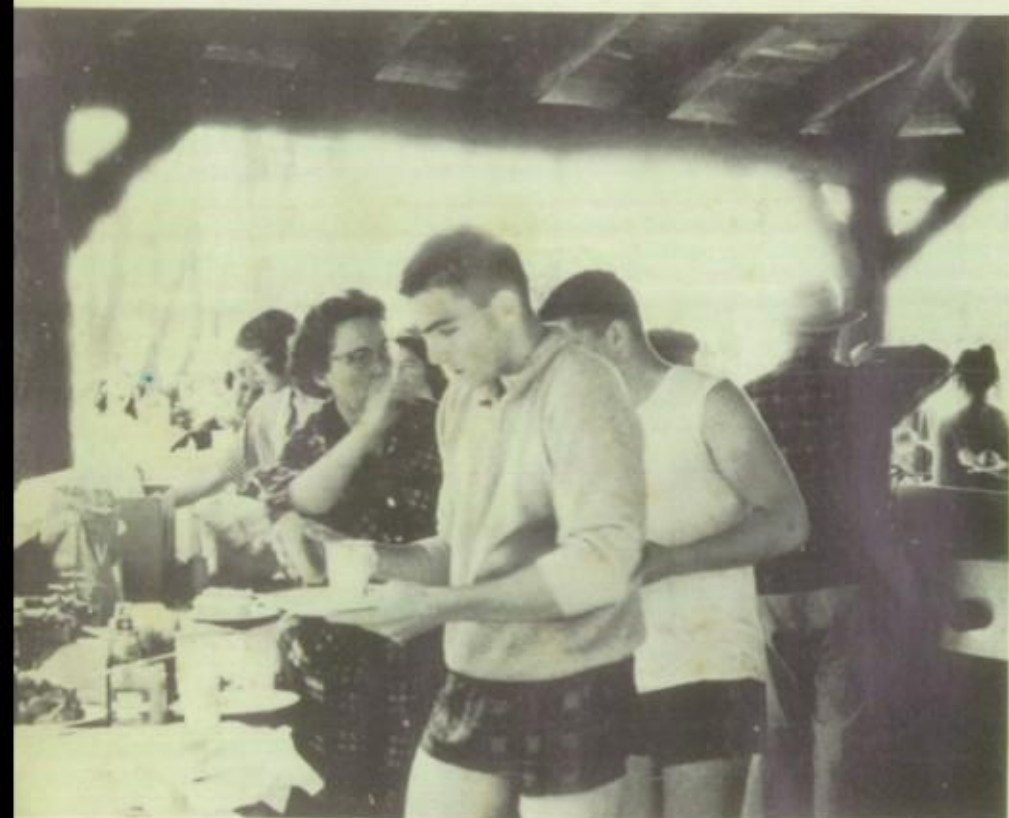

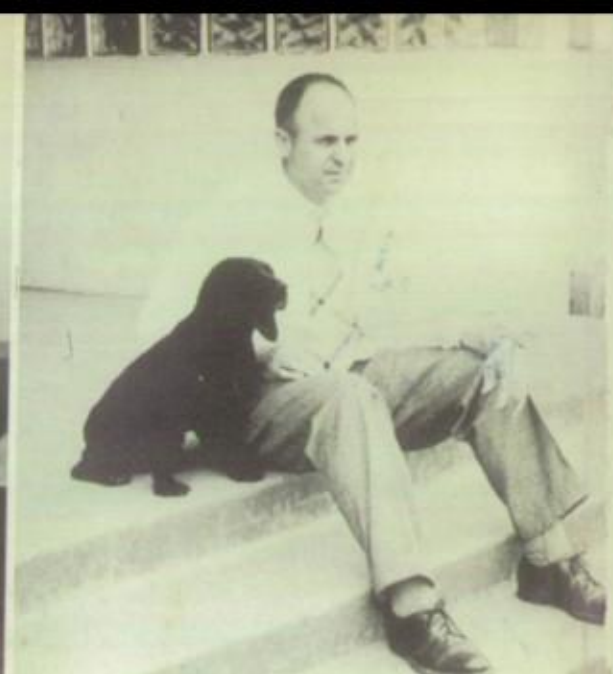

L. to R.: L. Reinhart, K. Messerle, T. Bullard, K. Black, B. Eames, C. Foran, J. Coffindaffer, L. Hedden, and C. Doty prepare for Boys' and Girls' State.

Steve Beckham, LeRoy Reinhart, and Katy Finell discuss plans for the '58 Mahiscan.

While the seniors were enjoying themselves at Honeyman State Park, the annual staff was desperately trying to redo its lost pages. Even poor Max had to suffer the indignity of a haircut.

Dear Evelyn,
 Its been loads
 of fun knowing you
 even in the forth grade
 (Remember?) I hope you have loads of fun all through high school and always. Best of luck to a real swell girl.

Dear Evelyn,

So you were jealous of me in grade school(?)
ha. Well at least you hate me now (a way past) I wish you lots of luck here at Marshfield.
Your friend,
